Making history in the heart of Lancashire football

Burnley FC Women's team was founded in 1995 under the name 'Burnley FC Girls and Ladies'. The team initially played in local and regional competitions before joining the Northern Division of the Women's Premier League in 2006. Burnley FC Women have had several successful seasons, winning the Northern Division title in 2007 and reaching the fourth round of the FA Cup in 2010.

The team has strong ties with Burnley College, who provide players with opportunities to develop their skills and education. Burnley FC Women and Burnley College take a leading role in offering young female players access to quality education and football development.

Burnley FC Women's team, together with Burnley College play an important role in the town, promoting women's football and inspiring the next generation of female athletes. The team regularly engages with the community, with players volunteering at local schools and participating in community events. The team's significance in Burnley has been recognised by the council, who awarded the team the Freedom of the Borough in 2021.
